Andnote for the understanding of all this, that this which they call an Implicite faith in Chrift, is no actual faith in Chrift at all. He that only believes as the Church believes, and knows not that the Church believes in Chrift, in the Refurrection of Chrift, Ge. hath no actual belief in Chrift or the Refurrection at all. Ignots malla fides : If I believe that one of you is true of his word, it doth not follow that I actually believe the particular propositions which I never heard. This which they call an implicite Belief, is nothing but the explicite actual belief of the Formal Object of Faith, Divine or Humane, as that God is True, or the Church True and infallible; but it is no belief at all of the particular material object.

And note that every one in the world that believeth that there is a God, must needs believe that he is no Lyar; and so hath in God an Implicite belief. Now if this will fave men, without a particular belief in Chrift, then Chriftianity is not neceffary : Every Turk, and Jew, and Infidel that believethin God, may then be faid to have an Implicite faith in Chrift, in the Popifh language; because he believeth all that God revealeth to be true ; But if an Implicite faith in God will not ferve, how fhould an implicite faith in the Church ferve; unless the Church, chat is the Pope, be better then God.

See here, whether they make any more of the Christian faith then a meer fhooing horn, to draw and keep men to their fide. By a General Council and the Pope it is determined that no mancan be faved out of their Church : as headed by the Pope : Tobelieve in the Pope is of Necessity to Salvation ; but to believe in Chrift, in his Incarnation, Death, Refurrection, is not fo. An Implicite faith in the Pope or Church, yea or erring Doctors may fave, and men may merit by following them in error; but an Implicite faith in God himfelf will not fave, if we believe not in the Pope. So that if we were Infidels we might befaved, fo we were of the Church of Rome, and believed in the Pope : but the Holieft Christian that believeth explicitely in God, and all the Articles of the faith, cannot be faved, if he believe not in thePope, Do you think they believe these Doctrines them elves? or rather frame them to the building of their Kingdom ?

And what a wonder is it that Learned Doctors fee not their own contradiction ? they suppose a man to believe in the Pope, or as the Church believeth, and yet not to believe in Christ ! And is not the Church effentially a company of Christians; the spoule, and body, and school, and Kingdom of Christ? And is not the Pope effentially the pretended Vicar of Christ? How then can they believe in Christs Vicar, or Christs School, or Kingdom, or followers, before they believe in Christ himself?

And by all this you may perceive the Holinels of the Roman Church, and the nature of that Discipline or Church Government that all the world must needs submit to, or be damned. Even such as takes in Infidels and all, and layeth the Church as common to the world, for as many as will but believe in the Pope and Clergy.

You see here also another mysterie opened : that a man may have enough to Justifie him, that yet will not fave him: For most of them are here faid to hold that a man may be justified without an explicite faith in Christ, or that the knowledge of Christ is not necessfary to his Justification, but to his falvation it is (Though the other half say, that its necessfary to neither) And if a man die in a Justified State, must he be condemned ? when Paut saith, Rem. 8. 30. Whom he justified, them he also glorified.

You fee also here what their Baptism doth, that can ex opere operato infallibly put away the fins of all these Infidels, and so the Eucharist, &. And yet they must not be faved for all that their fins are all done away. O what a Maze is the Romish Divinity ! And you see how well they are agreed about these fundamentals, when half of them think that an Astual belief in Christ is necessary to falvation, and not to fussification; and others that its necessary to both: and great part that its necessary to neither. And you see here the benefit of having an Infallible Living judge of controversies, and expounder of Scriptures: and how admirably he hath ended all their differences.

And again I fay, If formally these Unbelievers are in their Catholick Church, they shall give us leave to say that the Greeks and other Eastern and Southern Christians are in the same Catholick tholick Church as we are, when we differ not fo much.

And by this time I hope you fee of how fmall moment the Popish Censures are, when they judge that a Protestant cannot be faved.

Its true that S. Clara here judgeth otherwife : but 1. Its faid his Book was burnt or condemned at Rome for it. 2. He alloweth Infidels as much. 3. And he proveth himfelf a Heretick by it at Rome; seeing a General Council and Pope have determined the contrary, even that it is neceffary to falvation to be a fubject of the Pope of Rome.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

A Nother of their Deceits, and I think the molt Detect. 29. fuccessfull of all the rest is, Their suting their Destrines, and Government, and Wor (bip to the flefbly humours of the ungodly : by which means the Greatest and the Most are alwayes. like to be on their fide : When on the contrary our Doctrine, Difcipline and worship is all fo contrary to carnal interest and conceits, that we are still like to lofe the most, if not the greatest, and confequently to be a perfecuted people in the world. This is their unanswerable Argument : By this means they captivate the Nations to their Tyranny. The Most are every where almost licentious, lenfual, worldly and unfan clified : Wile men and Godly men are few in comparison of the rest of the world. And it is the multitude commonly that hath the ftrength, and the Great. ones that have the wealth. So that I confess I take it for a wonder of mercy, that they are not Lords in every Countrey, and that the Reformed Catholicks be not used every where as they be in Spain and Italy. For where they have but opportunity to fhew themfelves, the Principles and Practifes of the Papifisare fuch, as will be most likely to win the Rabble rout to them, and make them Masters of the multitude, and of all except a few believing Heavenly perfons: (For the flock is little that must have the Kingdom.) And then, when they have got the multitude thus to follow them, and club'd the reft into prifons, or burned them in the flames, they reckon of this as one of the furest Evidences that they are the Catholick Church, because forfooth they are the greater number (in the Countries where they have advantage,) and it is but a few whom they were able to perfecute or burn as Hereticks that were against them. The very Argument of the Jews against Christ and his Difciples.

The Reafons why they have not by this Policie won the Chriflian world to their fide, are (under God, the great Defender of the innocent) these four ; I. Because in the Eastern and Southern Churches they have not had opportunity to lay their Inarcs, as they have had here in the Weft : And alfo those Churches have too many corruptions and neglects at home for the gratifying of the worfer fort. 2. Because God hath been pleafed in some places so to bless the endeavours of the smaller part, as to enable them against the multitude to preferve some liberty. 3. Becaule God hath fometime given Wife and Godly Princes to the people, that will not be cheated with the Popular deceits. 4. And principally because that the Papal Tyranny is directly contrary to Princes Rights, fo that its only those that are blinded by ignorance, or strengthened by an extraordinary league with Rome, or forced by the multitude of Popifh fubjects and neighbours, that put their necks into the Romish yoke. For what by the Popes pretended Power in temporals, at least in ordime ad spiritualia, and what by his excommunicating Princes, and his pretended power to depose them and give their kingdoms to another, and to absolve their subjects from their oaths and fidelity, (which is an Article of their faith, agreed on by the Pope and General Council, Later. Jub. Innoc. 3. cap. 3.) and what by his exempting the Clergy from their Princes Power, and what by the pilling their Countries for money, and what by their doctrine and practifes of murdering Princes that are not of their mind, by these and many other Evidences, they have awakened many of the Princes of the earth to look about them, and confequently to befriend the Truth against these Tyrannous Usurpers. Had it not been for these helps under God, we had not been like to have a name where they can reach, nor to have had liberty to breath in the common air.

Is would be a voluminous work to fhew you how all the Doctrines, Government, and worship of the Papists is suted to the humor of the fenfual multitude, and fitted to take with ungodly men. I shall but instance in twenty particulars (which are far from all.)

1. The Reformed Catholicks hold, that none fhould be taken into the Church by Baptism, unless themselves, or their Parents, if they be Infants, do make Profession of the Christian faith, and of an holy life, for the time to come, and feem to understand what they fay and do, and be ferious in it ; which exafperateth the grofly ignorant and ungodly, when we deny them this Priviledge of Believers. But the Papifts admit of the ignorant, ungodly, and fuch as believe not explicitely in Chrift, as you heard even now; and fo pleafe the people, and fill their Church.

2. The Orthodox hold, that Baptifm giveth Remiffion of fin to none but true believers and their feed. The Papifts perfwade many millions more, that all their fins are not only pardoned, but actually abolished ex opere operato, in their Baptifm, which is comfortable News to fuch ungodly fouls.

3. The Protestants fay, that Original fin liveth after Baptifm in fome degree; though it reign not, or condemn not those that are true believers; and that Concupifcence, that is, all inordinacy of the fenfual appetite, or inordinate inclination to fensual objects is a fin. The Papifts tell them that when once they are baptized, there is no fuch thing in them as Original fin, and that Concupiscence is no fin at all.

4. The Orthodox hold, that none are to be admitted to the Eucharift and Communion of the Church therein, but chofe that believe actually (or profess fo to do) the Articles of the faith, and understand the nature of the Sacrament, and live according to the Laws of Chrift. But the Papifts give it to all, and drive men to the Sacrament; fo that Albashinaus before cited, faith, he knows not whether ever any one was kept away in his age.

5. The Protestants hold, that men are not to be let alone in. scandalous fin, but admonished privately, and then openly before the Church, and if yet they Repent not, and Reform not, to be caft out; and not to be abfolved or re-admitted, without a Publick Confeffion and Penitence anfwerable to the fin : And this wicked people hate at the very heart, and will not endure. But the Papifts have got a device to pleafe them by Auricular fecret Confeffion to a Prieft, where if he will but confefs and fin, and fin and confefs again, he may have a pardon of courfewithout any open fhame or true Reformation. If we durft but imitate the Papifts in this one particular, we fhould do much to pleafe the people that are now exafperated : for I find, that almoft any of them will confefs in fecret that they have finned, that will not endure the open fhame.

6. The Protestants hold, that every fin deserveth death, and that every breach of the Law is fuch a fin; (though God: will not inflict the Punifhment on them that have a pardon) But the Papifts tell us of a multitude of fins that are but venial. that is, fins that deferve pardon, and yet deferve not Hell, and are indeed no fins, but analogically fo called. And they make shole to be fuch venial fins, which Protestants account abominably gross; as some lying, some swearing in common talk, some drunkennels, fome fornication, and the like, are with them but venial fins, which are properly no fins (And yet here alfo they are by the cars among themfelves, fome faying that venial fins are properly fins, and most denyingit) Yea all fins that are not deliberated on, are with them but venial fins. So that if they will but fufficiently brutifie themselves by fuspending the exercife of reason, and will swear, curfe, murder, without deliberasion, they are then free from fin and danger. And how eafie and pleafing is this to the ungodly ? Those are but Evangelical Counfails with the Papifts, that are the Precepts or Laws of Chrift to the Protestants.

7: The Protestants teach men, that it is their duty to feek the understanding of the holy Scripture, and to meditate in it day and night : but the Papists do forbid the Common people to read it in a language which they understand, and fave them all that labour that Protestants put them on : Nothing can win the people more then cheristing them thus in floth and ignorance.

8. The Protestants fay, that a man cannot be justified or faxed without an actual faith in Chrift (or being the Infant of a believer.

believer Dedicated to Chrift) and that this faith muft extend to all things that are Effential to Christianity. But what the 'Papifts fay of the Justification and Salvation of Infidels, if they believe in the Pope, you heard in their own words in the last Derection. A comfortable doctrine to the unbelieving world, to whom God hath fpoken no fuch Comfort.

Infant of a believer

We confess that those that never had the Gospel, are under the Law of nature or works, and that the penalty of this is fuch as God can in fome cafes dispense with (or else we could not be faved by Chrift) and fo that all Pagans are not under the Peremptory undifpensable threatning of the Gospel against final Privarive unbelievers : But yet, though God may pardon fome of these, he hath made them no promise that he will; and therefore they can have no politive hope grounded on a promise ; nor can any man fay, that Ged will fave any of them, or that he will not ; it being certain that they are under the condemnation of the Law, which God can dispense with, in wayes of fecurity to his Justice and Ends, but uncertain whether he will or not; and therefore is to be left among his unrevealed things. The true believer is under a certain promise of salvation. The unbeliever that bath had the Gospel, or might have had it and would not, is under the Gospel sentence of damnation, which is certain and irreversible, if he die in that Condition. The negative unbeliever that never had or could have the Gofpel, is under the Condemning fentence of the Law (of works or nature,) that is, his fin Deferveth eternal death; but this fentence is not peremptory and indifpenfable ; but yet it is fuch as God will not difpenfe with rafhly, but on terms that may fecure his Ends and Juffice. This is the true mean between extreams in this weighty point.

9. The Protestants fay, that all our best works are imperfect, and the fin that adhereth to them deferves Gods wrath, according to the Law of works, though he pardon it by the Law of Grace : and that when we have done all, we are unprofitable fervants, and properly Merit nothing of God for the worth of our works or in Commutative Justice. But the Papists take those very works to Merit heaven, ex Condigno, and (for here they are by the ears again) fay fome of them, by the Proportion of the work, and in Commutative Justice, which the Protestants fay, deferve damnation for their finful imperfections, and therefore need

need a pardon through the blood of Chrill. Yea they take thele works to be perfect, and the man to be perfect, and fay, that by fuch works as thele, they may Merit for others as well as for themfelves. And how easie and pleasing is this to proud corrupted Nature ?

10. The Protestants think, that no Faith Justifieth, but that which is accompanyed with unfeigned Love and Resolution for Obedience. But the Papists make a Faith that's separated from Charity, and joyned with Attrition, to be sufficient for admission to the Sacrament, which shall be instead of Love or Contrition, and so shall put away all fin.

11. The Proteflants knowing that God is a Spirit, and will be worfhipped in Spirit and truth, do teach people a fpiritual way of worfhip, which Carnal men are undifpofed to, and unacquainted with. But the Papifts do accommodate them by a multitude of Ceremonies, Images, and a Pompous hiftrionical kind of worfhip, which is eafie and pleafant to flefh and blood. To have an Image before them, and Copes, and Ornaments, and abundance of formalities, and to drop fo many Beads, and be faved for faying over fo many Ave Maries, or fuch like words; what an eafie kind of Religion is this, and how agreeable to flefh and blood ? How much eafier is it to fay over their offices, then to Love God above all, and defire after Communion with him in the fpirit, and to delight in him, and to pray in Faith, and heavenly fervour?

12. Protestants tell men of Hell-fire, as the remediles punishment of those fins, which Papists say deserve but a Purgatory : and they have hopes of coming out of Purgatory ; but there's none of coming out of Hell.

13. Protestants tell them of no hope of ease or pardon of fin after this life, if it be not pardoned here. But Papists tell them, that when they are in Purgatory, the Pope hath power to pardon them, and the faying of fo many Masses for their fouls, may ease them, or rid them out; and the Merits of other folks may deliver them.

14. Protestants tell them, that they must be holy for themfelves: but Papifts tell them, that they may hire another man to fay their prayers for them, which may ferve turn.

15. The Protestants do ingenuoufly confess, that they have no way to end all Controverfies in this life, but that we have a fufficient way to far to decide them as is neceffary to the peace of the foul, of the Church, and of the Commonwealth ; but no way for a final absolute Decifion, till the day of Judgement. The Pastors of the Church are to be Judges, so far as they are to execute: And the Magistrates are to be Judges fo far as they must execute: And every Christian hath a judgement of Difcerning fo far as he is to execute. But the absolute final judgement is referved to the laft day; when God will fully end our controverfies. But this fatisfyeth not men that would have all in hand, and the fentence past before the Affizes : And therefore the Papists better fit their humour, and tell them (and they do but tell them) of an End of all their controversies at hand : of an eafie cheap remedy by believing the Infallible Pope and Council; and fo putting an end to all divisions and doubts.

16. The Protestants would have none but feeming Professing Saints in their Churches : But the Papifts Canonize a Saint as a wonder ; and thut them up in Monasteries, and call a few Religions] that are separated from other Christians, as Chrisftians formerly were from the world : which brings the people to think that Holiness and Religion is not necessary to all but to a few Devotaries that will be better then they are commanded to be.

17. The Protestants bind men to keep their vows, and fidelity to their Governors : But the Papifts tell them that the Pope hath Power to free them from their fidelity, and difpenfe with their oaths.

18. The Papifts teach men to fast : by eating the pleafantest meats : but the Protestants use a total abilinence while they fait, unless in meer necessity.

19. The main businels and administration of Processant Paftors, is against that field that is predominant in the unregenerate, and therefore must needs be distastefull to the multitude of the ungodly. Our preaching is to open mens fin and milery, and caule them to perceive their loft condition, and fo to reveal to them a crucified Chrift, and then to fet them on the holy felfdenying heavenly life that Chrift hath prefcribed them. And to speak terrour to the rebellious, and to cast the obstinate out of our communion, and to comfort none as the heirs of heaven, either in life or at death, but only the truly fanctified and renewed souls. But for the Papifts, their Preaching in most places is but feldome; but they have a Mais in Latine: And as the old faying is, [The Mass doth not bite.] It galleth not a guilty confcience to see a Mass, and here a many of Prayers which he understandeth not: And when they do preach, when they should fnew wicked men their milery, they flatter and deceive them too often by their falle doctrine : They cannot humble them in the fense of their Original fin and Misery, for that they tell them was quite extinct and done away in Baptilm : And for their following fins, Absolution upon their customary confessions, hath done away all the guile at leaft : fo that here is no Milery for the Miserable souls to see : but like a Constables presentment at a Seffions, an Omnia bene : Unless perhaps some gross actual fin be apparent among them : and then they shall have an Oration against it, to drive them to auricular confession, and to receive the Body of Chrift, and be Absolved. And fo do they by Ceremonies and Sacraments ex opere operato quier the Consciences of unsanctified men, and humour them in all their rites and cuftoms, and at last curn them to Heaven or Purgatory with an Abfolution, and Extream Unction. And how pleafing a Religion this is to the ungodly people, those Ministers can tell, that fee the rage of fuch, against those that deny them even better Forms and Ceremonies when they defire them; to pacific their Confciences instead of real Holineis and Obedience.

So that we fee the advantage that the Papifts have to fweep away the vicious ignorant multitude, and then to boaft that they are the Catholicks, and we but Schismaticks, because they are the greater part : and then they are armed alfo by the Multitude to oppress us by their violence.

Now what remedy to ule against this Fraud, I cannot tell, but only to deal plainly and faithfully, though it do difpleafe, and to administer Gods Ordinances as he prescribeth, though never fo diftaftefull to flefh and blood ; and fo to commit our felves to God, and truft him with his Church and caufe, who is able to preferve it, and is most engaged to appear for us, when we lay all upon him, and have none to truft but himfelf alone. Let us not hearken in this cafe to flefh and blood that would advife us to remit the reins of Discipline, and to bend our Administrations to fome pleafing complyance with carnal minds. We difengage God when thus we begin to fhift for our felves out of his way. But withall we must acquaint those Princes that are faithfull to Chrift, how much it is their duty in this cafe to affift us; not by any cruelty to the Papifts (that I defire not) but only by quieting the ungodly part of our People in a frate of Gatechumens, or expectants, or a Learning condition fitted to their state; and to restrain such in the mean time as would take advantage of their difcontents, to feduce them by pleafing licentions doctrines totheir undoing.

CHAP. XXXIX.

Detect. 30. A Nother of their frauds is, by culling out all the barsh, unhansome passages, or mistakes that they meet with in any Protestant Writers, and charging all these upon the Protestant Religion, as if they were so many Articles of our Fasth: or at least were the common doctrines of our Charches.

They will not give us leave to do fo by them, when yet we have much more reason for it. For I. They teach the People that they are bound to believe as their Teachers bid them: and they reproachin reproach us for confessing that we are not in all points of Dodrine infallible : And yet we still confess this fallibility, and fay in plain terms, that we know but in part. 2. Divers of their particular Doctors that we use to cite, are fuch as the Pope bath Canonized for Saints : and they tell us that in Canonizing he is infallible : And therefore an Infallibly Canonized Saint must not be supposed to err in a point of faith. 3. They boast fo much of Unity and Concent among themselves, that we may the better cite particular Doctors. And yet we think our felves bound to stand to their own Law in this, and to charge nothing on them as the faith of their Church but what their Church doth own: and therefore while they refuse to stand to particular Doc Etors, we will not urge them to it: for its good reason that all men should be the Professions of their own belief.

But what reason is there then that we may not have the same measure from them which they expect ? We profels to take no man, nor Council of men, for the Lords of our faith, but for the Helpers of our faith. They tell us, that they know not where to find our Religion. We tell them it is entirely in the written word of God, and that we know no other Infallible Rule ; because we know no other Divine Revelation (suppoling what in Nature is revealed.) They tell us that, All Hereticks do pretend to Scripture, and therefore this cannot be the Teft of our Religion ? I answer, that so all cavillers, and defrauders and extortioners, may pretend to the Law of the Land, to undo poor men by quirks of wit, or tire them with vexatious fuits : And yet it follows not that we must feek another Rule of Right, and take the Law for infufficient : And what if Hereticks pretend to Tradition, to General Councils and the Decretals of the Popes (as you know how frequently they do) Will you yield therefore that these are an infufficient Rule, or Test of your own Religion? Open your eyes, and judge as you would be judged.

But I will come to fome of the particular Opinions which they charge us with. And becaufe I know not a more weighty renowned Champion of their caufe then Cardinal Richleim (then Bifhop of Lucion :) I shall take notice of his twelve great errors which he fo vehemently chargeth on the Reformed Churches, as contrary to the Scripture. I. [The Scripture faith, Jam. 2. that a man is not fustified by Faith only; but you fay, that he is Justified by Faith alone, and by Fairb only, which is found in no place of Scripture : and do you not then resist the Scriptures ?]

An/m. I. We believe both the words of Paul and James, that a man is fultified by Faith without the Deeds of the Law, and laved through Faith --- not of works, left any man should boast. Rom. 3. 28. Ephef. 2.8,9. and also that a man is fustified by works, and not by Faith only, Jam. 2. Did not this Learned man know that we believe all the Bible? why then fhould he charge us with denying that which we retain, and publickly read in our Churches as the word of God? Did he think that we let fo much by Lathers, or any mans writings, as by the Bible? 2. Bur if he can prove that we understand not these words aright, he should have evinced it better then by the use of the words [Faith alone] For our Churches by [Faith alone] do profess openly to mean no more then Paul doth by [Faith without works] And can they find fault with Paul? 3. Indeed we are not all agreed upon the fitteft Notion of the interest of Faith and works in our Justification : but our difference is more in words and notions then matter, of which fee my Disput. of Justification. 4. And why do you nor quarrel with your own Cardinal Contarenns de Justif. and others of your own, that joyn with us in the doctrine of Juffification.

His second Acculation is, [The Scripture faith, that we can Love God with all the heart : you fay, that no man can Love God with all the heart, which is no where read in Scripture : and yes do you not refift the Scriptures ?]

Anfm. 1. Unprofitable Confusion ! we distinguish between Loving God with all the Heart, as it fignifieth the fincerity and predominant degree of Love, and fo every true Christian bath it : and as it fignifieth some extraordinary degree above this meer finseriey; and fo fome eminent ftronger Christians have it; and as it fignifieth the highest Degree, which is our duty, and which excludette excludeth all finfal imperfection: And thus we fay, that no man actually doth Love God perfectly in this life: nor do we think he speaks like a Christian, that dare fay, Lord I Love the for much, that I will not be beholden to thee to forgive the imperfection of my Love, or to help me against any finful imperfection of it. Your own Followers whom you admire as the highest Lovers of God, do oft lament the imperfections of their Love (as M. de Renty, for instance, in his Life.) But now if the question be only of the posse, and not the act, we fay, that the Potentia maturalis is in all: and the Potentia Moralis, which is the Habir, is in the fanctified: but this Moral Power is not perfect it felf, that is, of the bighest degree, and without any finful imperfection; though yet it hath the perfection of fincerity, and in fome, the perfection of an eminent degree. And will not this content you ?

His third Acculation is, [The Scripture faith, that the Eucharift is the Body and Blood of Chrift, with the adjunction of those words that fignifie a true Body and Blood: you say that it is not Christs Body and Blood, but only a figure, fign, and testimony, which the Scripture no where saith.]

Anfw. 1. The Scripture faith not that it is his Body and Blood substantially, or by Transubstantiation : And we fay not, as you fe go, that it is not his Body and Blood, but a figure, &c. For we fay, that it is his Body and Blood Sacramentally and Repre'entatively : as he that perfonateth a King on fome just account, is called a King; and as in actions of Investicure and Delivery ; the delivering of a Key is the delivering of the House, and the delivery of a twig and turf, is the delivery of the Land ; and the deliverer may fay, Take, this is my House, this is my Land, which I deliver thee. If you be among many Images in a room, you will not blame him that faith, This is Peter, and this is Paul, and this is the Virgin Mary. 2. The Scripture often calls it Bread after the Confectation; which you condemn us for : therefore we are taught to call it fo. 3. The Scripture faith, I Cor. 10. 4. [That Rock was Chrift] and he faith, [I am the door, John 10.7. I am the true Vine, John 15.1.] David faith, [I am a worm and no man, Pfal. 226.] we believe all this. But must we be therefore reproached, if we fay, that David was a man; that the Rock was Christ typically; that that he was a Vine and Door Metaphorically only ? And yet these are as plain as, This is my Body, and This is my Blood.

His fourth Acculation is, [The Scripture faith, that Bapti m lavetbus, and that we are cleanfed and regenerate by the walking of mater : On the contrary you fay, that Baptism doth neither fave ns, nor regeneratens, but is only to us a symbol of falvation, ablution, and regeneration, which is no where faid in Scripture.

Anfm. A childish contest about words ! we fay, that two things go to our full poffeffion of our flate of Regeneration, Iustification, and Cleanfing One is our fundamental Right, which the Promise of the Gospel gives us upon our Heart consent or Covenant with God : the other is our Solemn Investiture ; in regard of the former, we are Christians, and Regenerate, and Juitified before Baptilm : In regard of the later, we are made Christians, regenerate, justified, faved by Baptism. This we commonly hold, and so never denyed what you falfly say we deny. As a man is made a King by his Coronation, that yet in a fort was one before; or as Marriage makes them Husband and Wife by publick folemnization, that were fundamentally fo before by Private Covenant; or as poffession is given by a Key, a twig and a turf (as I faid) of that which a man had right to before ; fo are we folemnly invefted with those benefits by baptism, which we had a fundamental Title to before. Do not your own writers confess this of a man that is Baptized many years after he had Faith and Charity? Do you think Cornelins and the rest that had the Holy Ghost before Baptism, Ad. 10. had not Justification before? Do you think that Constantine the great was unpardoned, unregenerate and no Christian till he was Baprized? Or rather would you make quarrels against your own Confessions ?

His fifth Accusation is [Scripture faith, that Priests de forgive fin : on the contrary you fay that they do not rem t them, but only restific that they are remitted, which the Scriptures no where say.] Anfm. As if Teffisication could not be a Remission. We lay, that whose sins the Paffors of the Church remit, they are remitted. Do you not know that thefe very words were used to every Presbyter in our Ordination here in England? We fay 1. That Pastors do as Gods Embasfadors, proclaim his General Conditional Pardon unto all. 2. That they are Gods Ministers to make a particular Application, and delivery of pardon in Baptifm, on fupposition that the Baptized be qualified for pardon. 3. That they are as his Ministers, to make the same Application by Declaration and Delivery in the Abfolmtion of the Penitent; on supposition that their penitence be fincere. 4. And as Church Governours, they may on good confiderations sometimes remit some humbling disgraceful acts that were imposed on the penitent for the testification of his repentance, and the fatisfaction of the Church. And are not these four concessions enough? Or are you minded to pick quarrels, that your felves and others may have fewel for the rancour and uncharitableness of your minds?

But indeed we do not think that any man can primarily as the chief Agent forgive fins; but God must be the first pardoner: Nor that any man can pardon the fins of the dead, and abate or shorten the pains of the soul in a fire called Purgatory. Here we leave you.

And verily if the Pope have power to remit but the very temporal punifhment, he is a cruel wretch that will not forgive men, even good men, the torments of the Gout, and the Stone, and an hundred difeafes; nay that will not remit them to himfelf, no nor the pains of death, when he is fo loath to die : (But I forgot that the Pope hath no body to forgive him, becaufe none above him) He that connot remit the punifhments which we fee, and feel, how fhall we believe him (without any Divine. Teltimony) that he can remit a penalty that he never faw nor felt, nor no man elfe, that can be proved.

His fixth Acculation is [Scripture faith, If a Virgin marry she finneth not : but you say that the just fin in all works : which Scripture mentions net.]

Anfron 1. Do you believe in your Conscience that the Scripture meaneth that a Virgin finneth not at all in any circumstance or defect in the manner or Concomitants of her Marriage? Then I pray tell your Nans fo, that if they marry they fin not. Tell Priests fo, that if they marry they fin not. Your own reafon can expect no other sense in the words, but that Marriage, as faceb, is no fin to the Virgin. And this we grant: But yet if you think that in this or in any other work, you see God as apprehensively, and believe as strongly, and restrain every wandring.

wandring thought as exactly, and Love God as much as your are bound to do by the very Law of Nature it felf : fo that you are perfectly blamelefs, and need not be beholden to the blood of Chrift, to the Mercy of God, to the Spirit of Grace, either for the forgiveness of these failings; or the cure of them, you fhew then a proud Pharifaical fpirit, unacquainted with it felf and with the Golpel. Do you go on and fay, Lord I thank thee that I am not as other men: and I will rather fay, Lord be mercifull to me a finner : and which shall be rather justified. Chrift hath told us. The ftreams cannot be perfectly finlefs, till the fountain be fo: and [Who can fay, I have made my beart clean, I am pure from my fin ? Prov. 20. 9.] [For there is not a just man upon earth, that doth good, and sinneth not, Eccl. 7. 20. Chrift telleth us that the fruit will be like the Tree. the actions like the heart : and therefore an imperfect Heart will have imperfect duties. If you dare fay there is no remnant of fin in your hearts, you have so much of it that hindereth you from leeingit. Humility and felf-knowledge would foon end this controversie. We fay not that all our works are fins that is. either materially forbidden, or done in mickedness, and from vicious predominant habits; But that the fame works which Materially are good, are tainted with our finfull imperfections, having not in them that measure of knowledge, faith, love, Ge. as we ought to have; and therefore that we must beg pardon for our imperfections, and fly to the blood and merits of Chrift, through whom God will accept both our works and us, for all the imperfections, which he pardoneth to us of his grace.

His feventh Accufation is [Scripture faith that there are wicked men and reprobates, that believe in Christ: But you contend that they believe not, but have only a shadow of faith : which no Scripture (aith.]

Anfm. Again, a quarrel about the name of faith, unworthy serious men! We say that Reprobates do believe, and we say that they believe not, taking belief in different fenles. We believe what ever the Scripture faith, even that the Devils be. lieve and tremble: and yet as Believers and Christians are all one. we are loath to call the Devils Believers and Chriftians ; but you may doir, if you please. As Belief fignifieth a bare uneffectu-all conviction or superficial Affent which you call fides informis, fo we still confess that the wicked may believe. But as Belief fignifieth our Receiving of Christ, and Coming to bim, and being planted into him as his members, and taking him heartily as Christ, our Lord and Saviour, and so becoming Christians and Disciples: as it fignifieth such a faith that hath the promise of pardon of fin, of Adoption, and of Glory, so we say that the wicked have but a shew or shadow of it. And this is the fense of the words of Calvin, P. Martyr, Beza, and Daneus, whom you cite. And do you not thisk so your felves? Indeed you know not what to believe in this, as I have shewed in Postscript to my Disput. of Sacraments.

His eighth Acculation is this [Scripture faith, that there are fome that believe for a time, and after at another time believe not. Ton deny that there are any that believe for a time, and then fall from faith, and that he that once believeth doth ever lofe that faith, which is not in any Scripture to be found.

Anfw. It is too light in ferious matters, to play thus upon words. 1. We still maintain that there are some that believe but for a time, and afterward fall away : but we fay it is but with an uneffectual or common affent that they believe, fuch as you call fides informis. Your accusation therefore is falle. The semen vita and faith that Calvin speaks of, in the place which you cite, is meant only of a faving faith, fuch as you call fides charitate formata. If any of you think that faith is called charitate formata, or justifying or faving faith, only by an extrinsecal denomination, from a concomitant, and that there is no difference in the faith it felf between that of the unjustified and of the justified, you are mistaken against all reason. Your own Philosophers frequently maintain that the will (which is the feat of charity) followeth the practical dictates of the Intellect (which is the feat of Affent.) And therefore according to those Philosophers, a Practical Belief must needs be accompanyed with charity. And those that deny this, do yet maintain that a powerfull clear Affent of the Intellect will infallibly procure the determination of the Will, though every affent will not, and though it do it not Necessarily. So that on that account (and in common reason) there must needs be an intrinsick difference between that Affent which prevaileth with the will to determine determine it felf, and that which cannot fo prevail : And therefore your unformed and your formed faith, have some intrinfick difference.

2, the Lutherans that are half the Protestants, do think that juftifying faith may be loft. So that (be it right or wrong) you cannot charge this on them all.

4. Are you not at odds among your felves about perfeverance? fome laying it first on mans free will, and some with Auftin, afcertaining perfeverance to the Elect, becaufe Elect, and laying it on Gods free Gift ; and some Jesuites and School men affirm . ing that the confirmed in Grace are not only certain to perfevere, but that they neceffarily believe and are faved, and cannot mortally fin (frange doctrine for a Jesuite !) Of all this controversie of perseverance, I desire the Reader to see a few theets called An Account of my Judgement hereabout.
